Bret,

In an effort to avoid what happened today I am going to lay out our expectations. You can be here as a pole watcher to observe the votes. You cannot interfere with the elections staff. If a voter verbally requests your help once they are at the window or when they are voting you can help them but let our staff first make sure they are getting their questions out. If you interfere with any voter or the elections staff I will have you removed from the Courthouse and possibly charged with obstruction of a public servant pursuant to Montana Code

Theresa,

I did not interfere with the Roosevelt County election staff. Please do not invent facts that do not exist. Josh's feelings are not facts.

Further, as you are well aware, the voter in question did not make any complaint to you that I was interfering with him.

Today's incident was simply that your staff member is a hothead who cannot control his impulses.

That said, thank you for putting your threat to have me arrested in writing. It is a great day for Democracy.

Cordially,

Bret Healy
